A collection of 1226 War or Rebellion Tokens. I unhesitatingly pronounce this to be the finest and largest that I have ever offered of these interesting mementoes of the War of the Rebellion, 1861-1864, when they passed current for various sums, usually however for One Cent; those uttered for higher values are very uncommon; of these latter there are quite a number in this collection. They are silent testimonials of the extreme measures taken by merchants, in time of war, when the Government had larger and more engaging interests, to relieve their pinching necessities for small change. The condition of these pieces, with few exceptions, is uncirculated; many are struck in both brass and copper. It is believed that there are no duplicates in the lot.

Although arranged in seven lots, the right is reserved to sell them as a whole, should a suitable bid be offered.
